

The Institute of English and American Studies (UD) invites you to a lecture given by

Rosemary Wakeman

CEU IAS Senior Core Fellow

Professor of History and Director of the Urban Studies Program at Fordham University,
New York

on

What is a European City? Reflections on Urban History

Time: 12.00 p.m., 21st March, 2018

Venue: St. 111 (First floor), Main Bldg

Rosemary Wakeman is the author of Practicing Utopia: An Intellectual History of the New Town Movement (University of Chicago Press, 2016) as well as The Heroic City: Paris 1945-1958 (University of Chicago Press, 2009) and Modernizing the Provincial City: Toulouse 1945-1975 (Harvard University Press, 1998). She is also editor of Themes in Modern European History, 1945 to the Present (Routledge, 2003). Wakeman has published numerous articles on urban history and on cities including most recently "Rethinking Postwar Planning History" in Planning Perspectives 29(2014) and "Was there an Ideal Socialist City? Socialist New Town as Modern Dreamscapes" in Transnationalism and the German City (Palgrave Macmillan, 2014). Her current book project is An Urban History of Modern Europe: 1815 to the Present to be published by Bloomsbury Press.

ALL WELCOME!