& summer school

Dear Student,

The Council of the Yeats Society offered one scholarship to the Hungarian Yeats Society for the 2014 Summer School in January 2014 to coincide with the foundation of the Hungarian Yeats Society. The scholarship on offer is a Yeats Tuition scholarship which covers lectures, seminars, poetry readings and some excursions but not accommodation or the poetry workshop which is an extra 100 euros. As last year, scholarship students will be based at Yeats Village which offers budget accommodation at a reasonable price.

The Yeats Society of Sligo welcomes you to the 55th Annual Yeats International Summer School, 27th July – 8th August 2014. Margaret Mills Harper and Matthew Campbell are the Director and Assistant Director. The distinguished roster of lecturers includes Maud Ellmann, Edna Longley, Lucy McDiarmid, Francis O'Gorman, Daniel Karlin, Patricia Coughlan, David Dwan, and Herbert Tucker. Sam McCready will lead the drama workshop, and Sinéad Morrissey will conduct the poetry workshop. Special events will include readings by Michael Longley, Donal Ryan, and John Kavanagh.

The longest running summer school in Ireland presents its unique blend of learning, art, and fun, in beautiful Yeats Country. In conjunction with the Tread Softly Arts Festival, the Riverstown Music Festival, Fleadh Cheol na hEireann and other arts events, the town of Sligo invites all to discover the power of the imagination through the work of Ireland's preeminent poet.

To apply for a scholarship,

- you should be a current undergraduate or graduate students with a specific interest in W.B.Yeats or any other Yeats family member
- enclose a letter of recommendation from your Professor or Director of Studies

- write a letter to the society explaining your interest in Yeats studies and why you would like to be considered for the Hungarian Yeats Society scholarship

Applications are made to the Yeats Society, and are considered, in confidence, by the Scholarship committee, whose decisions are final, conveyed directly to the applicant and to the Yeats Society.

Closing date for all Scholarship applications: 1st May 2014.
