

The 55th Annual Yeats International Summer School

27th July-8th August

The Yeats International Summer School 27th July—8th August 2014

The Yeats Society of Sligo welcomes all to the 55th Annual Yeats International Summer School, 27th July – 8th August 2014. Margaret Mills Harper and Matthew Campbell are the Director and Assistant Director. The distinguished roster of lecturers includes Maud Ellmann, Edna Longley, Lucy McDiarmid, Francis O’Gorman, Daniel Karlin, Patricia Coughlan, David Dwan, and Herbert Tucker.

Opening / Lectures and Seminars:

Alan Gilsean will open the Yeats International Summer School at the Hawk’s Well Theatre, Sligo at 2.30pm on Sunday 27th July 2014. Lectures take place in the Hawk’s Well Theatre, Sligo at 9.30 and 11.15am each weekday. Seminars take place at the Yeats Memorial Building, Sligo at 4.00pm each weekday. For more information click on the following link:

www.yeatssociety.com/programme-2014.html

Drama Workshop

The Drama Workshop takes place every day under the direction of Sam McCready, Joan McCready and Maddy Tongue. This year the workshop will focus on The Dreaming of the Bones by W.B. Yeats. Follow this link for more information: www.yeatssociety.com/drama-workshop.html

Poetry Workshop and evening readings:

The 2014 poetry workshop will be facilitated by the poet Sinead Morrissey on Saturday 2nd and Sunday 3rd August in the Yeats Memorial Building, Sligo. Special events will include readings by Sinead Morrissey, Michael Longley, Donal Ryan, and Joan McBreen. For more information follow this link: www.yeatssociety.com/poetry-workshop-and-readings.htm

Other Events taking place during the Yeats International Summer School.

Tread Softly Arts Festival, Fleadh Cheoil na hEireann, Lunasa, the Riverstown Music Festival,

Costs:

€650.00 (2 weeks) /€400.00 (1 week)

To book your place :

<http://www.yeatssociety.com/fees-and-booking.html>

For details of Scholarships

<http://www.yeatssociety.com/scholarships.html>

Group discounts are available

Contact yeatssummerschool@yeatssociety.com for details.